

Real Ale, Lager and Cider group 2024

A glorious afternoon out and about with the Real Ale, Lager and Cider group initially meeting at the Roundhouse, which as most people will know was part of the old general hospital. The reincarnation was very much to the liking of all, with still a lot of history preserved in the form of photographs around the walls.

Then on to the Crafty Crow, which always has a good selection of beers and on this day, ciders as well.

We popped into the Castle, which ended up being very disappointing, unless you were happy to pay £7+ for some of the more select offerings although we did manage to get some nice seating out on the terrace.

With Robin Hood in striking distance, we then decided to join his merry men and ladies for a group photo.

Next, on to an old favourite, Ye Olde Trip To Jerusalem, which never fails to disappoint especially when we were to extend the Carlton and Gedling u3a hospitality to a group of Japanese tourists, who kept waving at us.

Then over the road to the Navigation and then last, but by no means least, the Canalhouse.
