

STROLLERS 2025

January 2025: TRENT LANE & RIVER TRENT

In the end, forecasts that we would be swept away by torrents of rain were exaggerated and we got damp rather than wet, although we did have to retrace our steps at one stage, because the path was flooded.

March 2025: GEDLING COUNTRY PARK

Sunny weather, gentle walking, a bit over three miles, good views, great company - March stroll was everything a u3a stroll should be.

May 2025: CAYTHORPE

On our stroll to Caythorpe in May, we came across a couple who had dived through a barbed wire fence to escape a frisky heifer.

We shoed the cow away and helped them step back to the path. The picture shows the Strollers after the dramatic rescue.

October 2025: OXTON

Great weather and views for our October stroll from Oxton to Robin Hood and Louth Hills.

November 2025: EAST BRIDGFORD

We had a rather muddy stroll yesterday from East Bridgford, particularly muddy for one of us who slipped (!) but we all made it back to our cars and despite being overcast, we got some good views of the Trent Valley - and it stayed dry, Hurrah!
